++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and largely sunny. Warm away from east coast.

Today:
Any patchy low cloud, mist and fog soon clearing to leave a dry day with long spells of unbroken sunshine. Feeling warm away from the east coast, where a light onshore breeze will keep it cooler. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and sunny evening giving way to long clear spells overnight, although cloud is expected to increase towards dawn. With light winds a local frost is likely. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
A bright morning with sunny spells but cloud continuing to increase, bringing the risk of some showery outbreaks of rain during the afternoon. Freshening southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather cloudy with outbreaks of occasionally heavy rain Tuesday giving way to colder more showery conditions, with hill snow, through Wednesday and Thursday. Occasionally fresh northerly or northeasterly winds.
